DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to applicants correspondence mailed 01/04/2007. The amendment to the claims mailed 01/04/2007 has been entered. The amendment to the claims mailed on 01/04/2007 necessitates a further restriction requirement.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-41, drawn to method of cytosine methylation in DNA sample.

Group II, claim(s) 42, drawn to method for diagnosis or prognosis of adverse events by detection of the presence of an amplificate.

Group III, claim(s) 43, drawn to a method for differentiation of cell type or tissues by detection of an amplificate.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature of Group I is considered to be the detection of cytosine methylation in DNA samples. Herman et al. (US Patent 6017704 Jan 2000) teach a method for detecting a methylated CpG (cytosine methylation) containing nucleic acid which includes contacting the nucleic acid containing specimen with an agent that modifies unmethylated cytosine, amplifying the CpG containing nucleic acid by CpG specific oligonucleotides primers and detecting the methylated nucleic acid molecule (see column 5, lines 56-67). Herman et al. teach detection and identification of methylated CpG containing nucleic acid in the specimen may be indicative of a cell proliferate disorder, (see column 18, lines 38-43). Herman et al. teach identification and detection of methylated CpG containing nucleic acids in a specimen by comparison to normal tissue (see column 18, lines 48-50).

Thus, the technical feature linking the recited groups I-III does not constitute a special technical feature as defined by PCT Rule 13.2, as it does not define a contribution over the prior art.

4. A telephone call was made to Edward Kriegmans on 03/06/2007 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Sarae Bausch whose telephone number is (571) 272-2912. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 9am-5pm.
